CALL FOR PROPOSALS - EXHIBITIONS 2024

The FRD invites artists from different disciplines to submit artistic projects to make up the 2022 exhibition agenda.

The exhibitions will be on-site physical modality, taking place at our headquarters and space located in the city of Esperanza, Santa Fe (Argentina).

* (Find a map attached at the end of this document).

Programme

Call for applications: 10 April 2023

Deadline for submission: 30 September 2023

Evaluation and selection: 31 October 2023

Requirements

The requirements for submission are as follows:

- In order to give the opportunity to new proposals, artists who have exhibited at the Foundation may do so again, only after 30 months from the date of their exhibition.
- The project must be submitted via email in a single PDF file that will be sent to fundacionrd@fundacionrd.com.ar and contain:
 - Personal data of the artist or members of the group: name and surname, identity card, date and place of birth, nationality, contact details (phone number and email address), photograph of the artist/s, among others.
 - Explanatory memory, with the concepts that generated the idea, work or project. A text of up to 250 words that conceptualises the work and provides the necessary information for its correct understanding.
 - Photographs that reliably correspond to the exhibition or project, of one hundred percent (100%) of the graphic work. Each image of the project must include information on each of the works: Name of the work, Size, Type of work to be exhibited, Year of production and Technique used, detailing the support and mounting requirements. In the case of the use of non-traditional materials or means of expression, the weight, support, material, etc. must be specified.
 - If the artist or group considers it necessary to include web pages or other links that extend the information requested, they may do so in the body of the message corresponding to the sending of the file.
 - The artist's curriculum vitae or the collective's trajectory detailing training, individual and/or collective exhibitions, awards, other participations and any other information considered of interest for the purposes of evaluating the proposal and the author's merits.

- The projects must comply with the available mounting systems. If the proposal requires electronic equipment not owned by the Foundation, this must be provided by the proposer. The Foundation does not undertake to supply said equipment, nor does it assume responsibility for equipment on loan.
- It is not allowed to drill the walls or to intervene in the painting of the room.
- The proposed works must have the necessary supports for mounting and be ready to hang. The venue will provide its exhibition room and material for the assembly, which will be carried out under the supervision of specialised personnel.
- The artist and/or his/her curator or coordinator must work in collaboration with the staff of the Cultural Centre, following the guidelines indicated by the latter.

Evaluation of proposals

The proposals will be evaluated by the team of Cultural Advisors at the Foundation and their decisions will be final.

These decisions will be officially communicated by the Manager of the Institution. Subsequently, those selected will be contacted in order to adjust their participation in the following year's agenda.

Obligations of the artists

- The artists must comply with the deadlines established for the call, as well as, subsequently, with the agreed deadlines for the delivery of written material for catalogues, press releases, invitations, and also for the assembly of the works. No material may be distributed unless it has been previously reviewed and authorised by the Foundation.
- When the date of the exhibition is confirmed, the artists or their legal representatives must sign a document/contract that will be considered a sworn statement.
- As the Foundation is a non-profit institution, which does not receive any subsidy or official contribution, the artists are asked to contribute to the operating costs of the exhibition. The amount will be informed in the on-site exhibition regulations, which will be provided after the selection.
- As there is no storage space for the works, participants commit to withdraw them as soon as possible after the exhibition is over.

Obligations of the Foundation

- The Foundation will make it possible for candidates to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space for the preparation of proposals.
- The Foundation will take all precautionary measures to ensure that the works are returned in the same condition in which they were received, but will not be responsible for any damage, theft or loss caused during transport.
- The Foundation reserves the right of curatorship whenever it deems it necessary and, in the case of collective exhibitions, the right to decide the rooms where each of the participants' work of will be exhibited.

- The Foundation will not pay for the transport of works, catalogues, travel expenses or vernissage. The manager will be in charge of the diffusion of the exhibitions in the media, in the web pages, in the social networks and will send invitations to the opening by electronic means.
- The Manager and the Advisors will resolve any unforeseen situations that may arise.

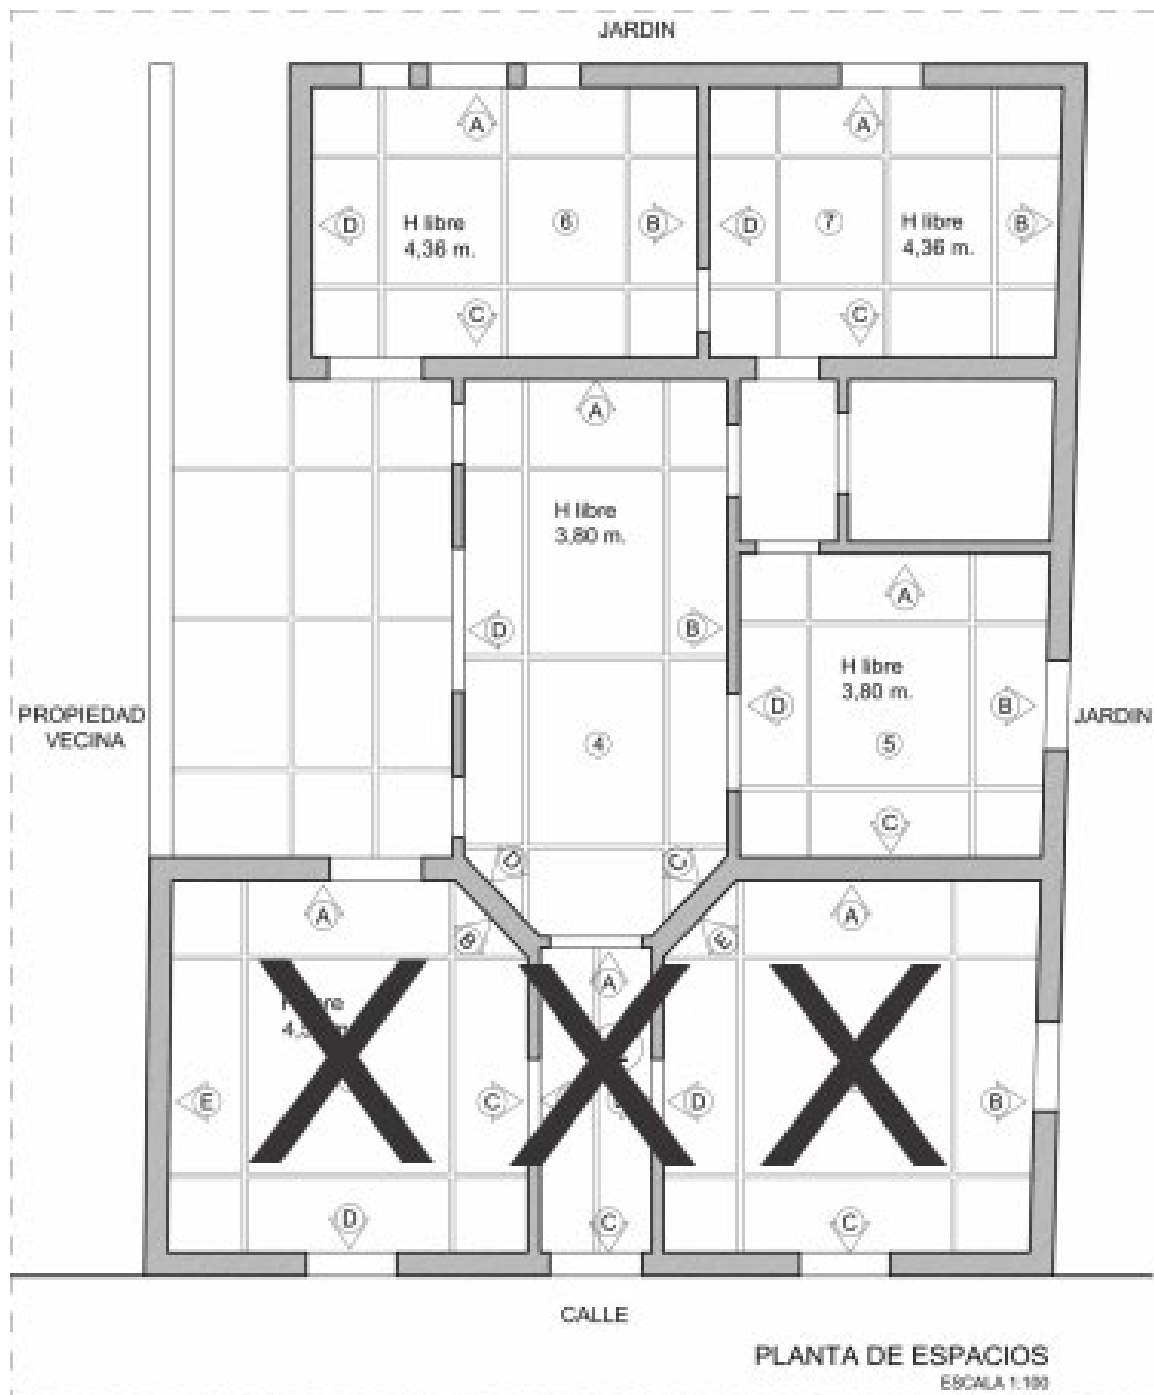

Acceptance of Terms and Conditions:

- The submission of a project for this call implies full acceptance by the author/s of these regulations.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS - FILM SERIES 2024

The FRD invites film directors, audio-visual arts students and/or any person related to this activity to submit Film/Audio-visual Projects to integrate the database and participate in our agendas.

The call is open from April 10 to October 31, 2023.

Requirements

- The following may participate: filmmakers, producers, students and directors who have film material: films, short films, documentaries, etc.
- The project must be submitted by email in a single PDF file that will be sent to fundacionrd@fundacionrd.com.ar and contain
 - Brief curriculum vitae of the artist(s) (name and surname, identity card, nationality, contact details, studies, training, experience, presentations, etc.)
 - References of the proposal: name of the project, genre, brief argument, duration, information of the group or director, technical requirements, good quality photographs and everything you think is necessary to make your project known.
 - If the director/creative group considers it necessary to include web pages or other links that extend the information provided, they can do so in the body of the message corresponding to the sending of the file.

Evaluation of the proposals

Proposals will be evaluated by the Foundation's team of Cultural Advisors.

In the event that the proposal meets the conditions required to be part of the FRD's agenda of activities, the manager of the institution will officially notify the artists in order to confirm participation, agree on the day and time and finalise the details of the presentation.

Depending on the circumstances posed by the Covid-19 health crisis, the proposals can also be made virtually.

Obligations of the artists

The artists must comply with the deadlines established for the call, as well as, subsequently, with the agreed deadlines for the delivery of written and photographic material for flyers, press releases, invitations and general dissemination. No material may be distributed unless it has been previously reviewed and authorised by the Foundation.

Also provide the material destined for the event in the corresponding format for projection.

Obligations of the Foundation

- The Foundation will make it possible for interested parties to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space where the proposals will be prepared.
- The Foundation has a screen, projector and speakers.

The capacity of the internal room is approximately 30 people. The presentation can also be held in the garden, which has larger dimensions, provided that there are suitable weather conditions.

- The Foundation will not pay for transportation, per diems, or cachet. However, it will take care of the dissemination in the media, on the web pages, on social networks and will send invitations for the presentation by electronic means.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS - MUSICAL PROJECTS 2024

The FRD calls for artists to present Musical Projects in order to integrate the database and to be able to participate in our agendas.

The call is open from April 10 to October 31, 2023.

Requirements

- The following can participate: musicians, composers and solo singers, duos, trios, quartets, choirs, orchestras, chamber music, etc. of different musical styles: tango, folklore, jazz, rock, Latin American, classical, renaissance, ancient music, etc.
- The Project must be submitted via email in a single PDF file that will be sent to fundacionrd@fundacionrd.com.ar and contain:
 - Brief curriculum vitae of the artist(s) (name and surname, identity card, nationality, contact details, studies, training, experience, presentations, etc.)
 - References of the proposal: name of the group or soloist/project/formation, musical genre, repertoire, technical requirements, good quality photographs and everything you think is necessary to make your project known.
 - If the artist or group considers it necessary to include web pages or other links that extend the information provided, they can do so in the body of the message corresponding to the sending of the file.

Evaluation of the proposals

Proposals will be evaluated by the Foundation's team of Cultural Advisors.

In the event that the proposal meets the conditions required to be part of the FRD's agenda of activities, the manager of the institution will officially notify the artists in order to confirm participation, agree on the day and time and finalise the details of the presentation.

Depending on the circumstances posed by the Covid-19 health crisis, the proposals can also be made virtually.

Obligations of the artists

The artists must comply with the deadlines established for the call. And later, the times agreed upon for the delivery of written and photographic material for flyers, press releases, invitations and general dissemination. No material may be distributed unless it has been previously reviewed and authorised by the Foundation.

Obligations of the Foundation

As the Foundation is a non-profit institution, which does not receive any subsidy or official contribution, it will charge a general entrance fee to be defined. The artists will receive 75% of the total amount of the collection.

In case the artist or group works exclusively by cachet, they must inform us about it in the project, together with their requirements, and it will be evaluated by the institution in due time.

The Foundation will make it possible for interested parties to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space where the proposals will be prepared.

The Foundation does not have sound equipment. In case it is necessary, the musician or group must provide it.

There are no lights in the space either. There is special lighting for the art exhibitions on display in the rooms.

The internal space is small, intimate and suitable for presentations by small groups. The capacity of the internal room is approximately 35 people. Performances can also be held in the garden, which is larger in size, provided that the weather conditions are suitable.

If the musical proposal is with many musicians and instruments on stage and requires a large space with other acoustics, the hall of the Swiss Guillermo Tell Association, with which the Foundation has a collaboration agreement, can be used. It has 80 seats.

This Association charges a room rental. Therefore, the musicians and/or their directors or representatives must commit themselves together with the Foundation to carry out the necessary work to cover all the expenses, either through the sale of tickets or to cover the requested cachet, sound and lighting budget, etc.

The Foundation will not pay for transportation, per diems, or cachet. However, it will take care of the diffusion in the media, in the web pages, in the social networks and will send invitations for the presentation of the event by electronic means.

CALL FOR PROPOSALS – PRESENTATIONS 2024

The FRD invites those interested in giving seminars, conferences, presenting books, records, research papers and tributes to share their proposals in our institution in order to integrate the database and be part of our cultural activities agenda.

The theme of these activities will be exclusively cultural, excluding those of political, religious or various therapies.

The call is open from April 10 to October 31, 2023.

Requirements

- The following can participate: writers, teachers, students, artists, researchers and professionals from different artistic areas.
- The project must be submitted by email in a single PDF file that will be sent to fundacionrd@fundacionrd.com.ar and contain
 - Brief curriculum vitae of the interested party (name and surname, identity card, nationality, contact details, studies, training, experience, presentations, etc.)
 - References of the Proposal: written project, general data of the same one, modality of the presentation, requirements, etc.
 - If it is considered necessary to include web pages or other links that extend the information provided, they can do so in the body of the message corresponding to the sending of the file.

Evaluation of the proposals

Proposals will be evaluated by the Foundation's team of Cultural Advisors.

In the event that the proposal meets the conditions required to be part of the FRD's agenda of activities, the manager of the institution will officially notify the applicant in order to confirm participation, agree on the day and time and finalise the details of the presentation.

Depending on the circumstances posed by the Covid-19 health crisis, the proposals can also be made virtually.

Obligations of participants

They must meet the deadlines set for the call. Subsequently, the times agreed upon for the delivery of written and photographic material for flyers, press releases, invitations and general dissemination. No material may be distributed unless it has been previously reviewed and authorised by the Foundation.

Obligations of the Foundation

- The Foundation will make it possible for interested parties to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space where the proposals will be prepared.
- The Foundation has screens, a projector and speakers. Any other technical requirement must be requested in advance and the possibility of obtaining it will be evaluated.
- The Foundation will not pay for transportation, per diems, or cachet. The manager will be in charge of the diffusion in the media, in the web pages, in the social networks and will send invitations of the presentation by electronic means.

Obligations of the Foundation

- As the Foundation is a non-profit institution, which does not receive any subsidy or official contribution, it will charge a general entrance fee to be defined. The artists will receive 75% of the total amount of the collection.

In case the artist or cast works exclusively by cachet, we request that they inform us about it in the project, together with their requirements, and it will be evaluated by the institution in due time.

- The Foundation will allow the candidates to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space for the elaboration of the proposals.

- The Foundation does not have technical equipment for sound and lighting. In case is required, it must be provided by the actor or group.

There are no lights in the space either, but there is special lighting for the art exhibitions on display in the halls, which gives the space a frame, which is small, intimate, suitable for monologues and presentations by small casts.

The capacity of the internal room is approximately 30 people. Performances can also be held in the garden, which is larger in size, provided that the weather conditions are suitable.

It is also possible to perform in the garden with larger dimensions, provided there are suitable weather conditions.

- If the theatre proposal has a lot of scenery and several actors on stage, we can count on the hall of the Swiss Guillermo Tell Association, with which the Foundation has a collaboration agreement. It has 80 seats.

This Association charges a room rental. Therefore, the actors and/or their directors or representatives must commit themselves together with the Foundation, to carry out the necessary work to cover all the expenses, either through the sale of tickets or to cover the requested cachet, sound and lighting budget, etc.

 - References of the proposal: Written project, general data of the same one, objectives, modality, necessary materials, estimated time of duration and frequency, requirements, estimated cost of the workshop, etc.
 - If it is considered necessary to include web pages or other links that extend the information provided, they can do so in the body of the message corresponding to the sending of the file.

Evaluation of the proposals

Proposals will be evaluated by the Foundation's team of Cultural Advisors.

In the event that the proposal meets the conditions required to be part of the FRD's agenda of activities, the manager of the institution will officially notify the applicant in order to confirm participation and finalise details.

Depending on the circumstances posed by the Covid-19 health crisis, the proposals can also be made virtually.

Obligations of Teachers

They must comply with the deadlines established in the Call. Subsequently, the times agreed upon for the delivery of written and photographic material for flyers, press releases, invitations and general dissemination. No material may be distributed unless it has been previously reviewed and authorised by the Foundation.

Obligations of the Foundation

- As the Foundation is a non-profit institution, which does not receive any subsidy or official contribution, an amount will be charged per workshop, to be defined. The teachers will receive 75% of the total amount collected.
- The Foundation will allow interested parties to visit its headquarters, by appointment, in order to see the space for the elaboration of proposals.
- The Foundation will adjust the schedule of the workshops according to the rest of the institutional activities, and the teachers must accept and respect this decision.
- The Foundation will be in charge of the diffusion of the workshops in the media, in the web pages, in the social networks and will send flyers and the proposal via e-mail. It will also be in charge of attending to potential students, informing them of their concerns, providing data and taking notes of those interested.
